

EXPERIENCE

FASEYA - Web Developer

Conception and development of an innovative CRM, making strategic decisions regarding adopted technologies. Structured the fundamental architecture of the application and carried out the development of key modules such as human resources management, projects, the dashboard, parameters, and a storage module (Drive).

FOXTECH - Web Developer

Maintenance of the Suite Dispatch, which is a web and mobile solution set to improve the productivity of construction sites and support optimized and sustainable management of resources: personnel, equipment, and materials.

MA-INFO - Web Developer

Development of an ERP application and implementation of key functionalities in the modules: Directories, Document Printing, Mail Sending, Staff Evaluations, Ticket Management, and Payroll Management.
Development of the institutional website and the showcase website dedicated to the commercialization of the ERP.

FINDTECH - Software Engineer

Conception and development of the dashboard for a mobile transportation application for individuals, improving user experience and service visibility.
Contributed to the development of the dashboard for a mobile application focused on meetings, implementing functionalities that enhance administrative follow-up and user engagement.
Development of a web application for the IT management of municipalities (PGIC), including the creation of the town hall presentation website, resulting in increased visibility of local administration, online interaction with residents, and agent performance.

MC&Co Agency - Web Developer

Development of the agency's showcase website, highlighting the offered services in a striking manner. Carried out an aesthetic and functional design, ensuring smooth navigation and an optimal user experience. Integrated visual elements and strategic calls to action to stimulate visitor engagement.

Plania - Web Developer

Development of a web application for automated project plan updates using AI, implementing algorithms to calculate the critical path, float, and remaining budget.
Generation of visual reports and interactive dashboards to visualize project progress and identify potential risks.

EDUCATION

Bachelor's Degree - Software Engineering (ESGIS)